Reviews

This book will be worth getting. Better then never, though i am quite late in start reading this one. Its been written in an extremely basic way which is only right after i finished reading this book through which actually altered me, alter the way i believe.

Winner of Houghton Mifflin Literary Fellowship Award, Biologist David G. Campbell spent 3 summers in Antarctica--- or, 3 single long days that begin in October and end in March, for it is world where the sun marches around the northern horizon slipping from sight so briefly that nights never blacken. This is an eloquent portrait of life's tenacity in the world's most unforgiving environment. The author eloquently describes the natural life of Antarctica as well as chronicling the legendary explorers who discover it; the whalers who exploited it and the scientists working there today. IN STOCK, Ships immediately, wrapped properly and shipped in special protective box by an experienced rare book dealer.
