We are told that before he departed, he called ten of his servants to him, and delivered unto each of them a certain sum of money, and said unto them, Occupy till I come. When he was returned, he commanded those servants to be called unto him to whom he had given the money, that he might know how much every man had gained by trading. We find that the first who came to give an account to his master of the way in which he had managed the sum entrusted to him, had been faithful and diligent. He had put out his Lord s money to the best advantage, and made the fair profit upon it, and so that his one pound had gained ten pounds. The pound which had also been entrusted to a second servant...
